

95. CHALLENGE TO THE NOMINAL CHRISTIAN

29, 93, 94, 186.

1. Fol - low me, the Sav - iour call - eth; Come to
 2. Thru this life I've gone be - fore you, Serv - ing
 3. Why is there this anx - ious striv - ing For the
 4. I call weep - ing: "Tribes and na - tions, O, that me, I am the way! What is lack - ing not earth's van - i - ty; So should all now treas - ures of this earth? By God's word they all could un - der - stand And would come to

I will give you; Trust in me and watch and pray!
 choose my vir - tue And my true dis - ci - ples be.
 all will per - ish, Hon - or, pleas - ure, wealth and mirth.
 seek sal - va - tion, Would o - bey my kind com - mand!"

Fol - low me in true sub - mis - sion; I have borne all
 Fol - low me with cheer - ful spir - it That my king - dom
 And I, who have life e - ter - nal, Joy and bless - ed -
 For the day is draw - ing near - er When the dis - o - your trans - gres - sion; Learn of me, both great and ye in - her - it. Yea, for - sake the high - way ness su - per - nal, Find so - few who will o - bey - ing hear - ers Who the truth have not be - small, Meek - ly, hum - bly hear my call.

 broad; Fol - low me on heav - en's road.
 bey On the straight and nar - row way!
 lieved, In false hope they were de - ceived.

5. When the words by prophets spoken,
 Their fulfillment then shall find:
 "Lo! Their vision I have broken
 And confused their heart and mind!"
 Woe to ev'ry willful being
 Who is constantly pursuing
 A perverse and sinful way,
 And in selfish pride does stay.

7. Sing, all ye who are persuaded
 By the power of His call!
 O, be glad; for you are aided
 By His hand through dangers all.
 Not a sparrow ever falleth
 Lest it be that God alloweth;
 So rejoice exceedingly
 For His kingdom yours shall be.

6. Therefore, all ye human beings,
 Hear today the Saviour's word;
 He came for the poor lost sinner
 Who with joy His message heard.
 Come, believe! Be meek and lowly,
 For His Word is true and holy;
 Who believes Him is made free
 Here and in eternity.

8. Walk thus, cheering one another,
 Little flock, e'en to the end;
 If ye see a stumbling brother,
 Helpful word and hand extend;
 Filled with God's own mighty fullness,
 Follow Christ in holy stillness;
 Sing to Him a "Gloria!"
 And rejoice, "Hallelujah!"
