5. If thou to life wouldst find the way,
 Then search the Scriptures ever.
 They show that, through Christ's death, man may
 Have life that endeth never!
 Lo! On the cross His life He gave
 And then was laid into the grave
 Because of thy transgressions.
6. What's needful most keep well in mind,
 Within His fold remaining.
 Be eager for His bread refined,
 Life's fount thy soul sustaining.
 With faith in Him look heavenward;
 Repentant seek His loving heart,
 His arms for thee are open.
7. And though upon the raging sea
 By storms thou shalt be driven,
 Thine anchor, guard and shield is He;
 His love to thee is given.
 He is thy Light in night and grief,
 Thy sword the vict'ry to achieve.
 He never will forsake thee.
